About Cybera

Today's companies face complex infrastructure, disconnected systems, and expensive networks that require dedicated IT staff, hardware, and management in remote locations. These challenges make it increasingly difficult to scale.

Cybera solves these challenges by combining industry-leading network solutions and security expertise. The result is a more secure, flexible, and agile environment scalable to thousands of locations, giving your business a clear competitive advantage. By reducing network complexity and minimizing costs with a unified platform, Cybera simplifies security and PCI compliance so you can protect your business and scale efficiently.

PDI Security Solutions

PDI Security Solutions are purpose-built to unify control with a robust security platform, network security appliance, and managed security services. We help multi-site operators, convenience retailers, and QSR businesses connect, secure, monitor, and scale highly distributed environments to protect their critical data and assets.

Cybera is part of PDI Security Solutions and enables businesses with highly distributed enterprises to unify control while protecting their critical data and assets from cyberattacks.

The Cybera Difference

Today, convenience retailers, multi-site operators, and QSR businesses face complexities driven by the proliferation of IoT devices and cloud-based applications that increase demand on networks. We understand this problem better than anyone, so we developed a simple way to manage and protect your data and assets.

We have you covered with the CyberaONE™ Platform. From loyalty programs and mobile payments to back-office operations, you get the connectivity, and technology you need in a comprehensive security solution.

CyberaONE Platform

PDI's robust security platform provides everything you need to connect your business to the cloud securely. It's purpose-built for highly distributed enterprises that need to meet compliance requirements and gain real-time visibility and control over network operations.

CyberaONE Network Security Appliance

Reduce your hardware footprint with a security appliance that integrates SD-WAN, UTM, Ethernet switching, embedded wireless, and compliance features.

VirtualNOC Management Portal

PDI's cloud-based security dashboard helps you monitor, manage, and modify features relevant to individual sites while simplifying troubleshooting and network management for multiple sites and brand-level networks.

World-Class 24/7 Managed Services & Support

Our team of experts is here to help you manage and maintain application availability and security for all your locations.

Our security platform provides everything you need to securely connect your business.

Protect your business and scale efficiently

Everything you need to connect your locations securely

Without onsite IT and security staff, distributed enterprises and small businesses are especially vulnerable to loss of connectivity. It's vital to simplify security so you can support all the applications, services, and devices that modern business demands.

How do we do that? We leverage redundant regional internet gateways with cloud-hosted services for next-generation firewall and IDP, and dedicate application gateways for services such as payment, mobile payment, loyalty, video surveillance, Voice over IP (VoIP), and more.

We provide critical services through an industry-leading managed security solution that is purpose-built for distributed enterprises.

Scale Efficiently

Reduce network complexity and control costs

Adapt to ever-changing needs

We can help you address the increasing demand on networks caused by in-store applications and edge devices such as POS systems, payments, tank gauges, digital displays, and self-service kiosks that capture data and introduce potential security vulnerabilities.

The CyberaONE Platform addresses these concerns and allows you to secure your network without sacrificing performance. We've combined software-defined networking principles with WAN technologies to build a unique solution and secure the network edge, giving your business a competitive advantage while reducing complexity and costs.

In addition, your non-technical staff will easily be able to connect to the cloud-based network with the CyberaONE Network Security Appliance, which eliminates the need for onsite IT staff or truck rolls.

We help you secure your network without sacrificing performance

Prepare for new technologies and evolving customer demands

Support your digital transformation strategy

We've got your back. You can embrace new technologies and digital transformation with confidence knowing your important and sensitive information is protected. From loyalty programs to back-office operations, CyberONE Platform delivers the connectivity, infrastructure, and technology you need.

Built specifically for convenience retail, hospitality, and other small businesses, our security platform makes it possible for you to deliver an exceptional customer experience by protecting your sites and securing interactions from the pump to the checkout—and beyond.

We provide remote operators with increased control, protection, and scalability by:

- Segmenting specific applications within dedicated networks
- Leveraging a secure, cloud-based environment
- Enabling plug-and-play appliance installation
- Connecting and managing remote locations easily

Leverage a unified platform to simplify security and PCI compliance

Easily meet regulatory requirements

No matter the size of your distributed retail enterprise, CyberaONE Platform makes it simple and straightforward to stay PCI-compliant across all types of applications and data. Our robust network security appliance helps you simplify your complex systems and truly protect your business and customers across all of your locations.

Meet your PCI compliance demands for all of your locations by:

- Leveraging anti-virus, firewall, and intrusion detection
- Isolating payment cardholder data
- Improving your risk profile
- Avoiding regulatory fines
- Protecting customer data
