Real-Time Tank Monitoring

Partnership with
Kii Tank Monitoring

Optimize operations and respond quickly to any situation with real-time remote access to tank data

With automation and real-time data, your team can focus on the value-added work that drives your business. Avoid runouts and retains with a real-time tank monitoring system that gives you the timely and accurate data you need to deliver the right amount of fuel at the right time. With instant and remote access to critical data, you can recognize and respond quickly to any situation.

Get Real-Time Visibility

Respond Quickly

Increase Efficiency

Simplify Operations

Make better replenishment decisions to improve your profits and customer relationships

pditechnologies.com

PDI
TECHNOLOGIES

Key Benefits at a Glance

> Save time and improve operations by eliminating manual processes with real-time remote access to tank data
> Deliver the right amount of fuel at the right time with timely and accurate data
> Respond quickly to any situation with instant access to critical data at any time, wherever you are
> Get up and running quickly with a system that is easy to set up, easy to use, and fully integrated
> Get instant access to tank level readings, service level efficiencies, and predictions for above-ground and in-ground tanks

Gain a competitive advantage

> Increase productivity and accuracy by eliminating manual sticks and inventory readings, phone calls, faxes, and emails.

> Reduce interruptions and let your dispatchers and team focus on operations instead of data collection.

> Avoid runouts and retains with a mature, enterprise-grade IoT solution that provides real-time data.

> Gain insight to make better, data-driven decisions with one year of historical data and other valuable analytics.

> Get instant access to critical data wherever you are using a cloud-based solution with intuitive mobile and web portal interfaces and customizable role-based dashboards.

> See the current status of every tank in the field, define rules, send notifications, and provision resources from a single dashboard.

> Provide mobile applications to fuel inventory managers and technicians to let them view and track specific tanks.

> Quickly recognize and respond to problems with remote troubleshooting of tank levels, leaks, water levels, and other alarms.

> Keep track of skid and mobile tanks with optional GPS location tracking.

pditechnologies.com

PDI
TECHNOLOGIES